Objectives
The Steering Committee established objectives for ADP for the calendar year 2020:

Steering Committee -

HIGH PRIORITY

1. Maintain current information on the acb.org/adp website with at least two new articles each month highlighting audio description activities through December 31.

2. Share information on the Leadership list and at the annual Presidents meeting regarding the availability of AD for performing and visual arts events and on media.

3. Plan, schedule, market and conduct Audio Description Institute courses during 2020.

4. Provide template for use by sub-committees to provide twice-per-year reports on activity to be shared on the ADP website—twice per year, by the end of July and the end of December.

5. Deliver Audio Description Institute courses and the ADP Conferences within the expenses approved in the ADP budget by July 30, 2020.

MEDIUM PRIORITY

1. Prepare and publish at least one announcement each month highlighting the ADP on ACB Leadership and ACBL list during 2020.

3. Participate in at least three state affiliate conferences and conventions promoting and educating the ACB membership on audio description activities during 2020.

5. Maintain and promote social media through Facebook and Twitter with at least two new Audio Description postings each month during 2020—(currently at over 2500 “likes” on FB and over 700 Twitter followers).

6. Advocate for Audio Description worldwide with contacts at five international organizations promoting Audio Description during 2020.
   Responsible:

   LOW PRIORITY

   1. Work with WBU on collaborative projects (by December 2020).

   Performing Arts/Museums/Parks subcommittee -

   HIGH PRIORITY

   1. Maintain current listing of known performing arts centers/theaters, museums, and national parks offering audio description services during 2020/follow-up on survey to affiliates with a goal of increasing listing by five sites in each area and the number of states represented (currently at 22 states and D.C. represented under Museums; 34 states and D.C. represented under Performing Arts).

   2. Contract, plan and implement the Audio Described Tour of the Washington D.C.
   Smithsonian Institution/Museum of Natural History “Insect Zoo” by July 2020.

   3. Follow-up on contacts with management / facilitate another meeting at the 9/11
   Museum in New York to express concern regarding the availability of audio description and other access services, including films, videos or interactive displays and staff access/audio description training, on behalf of visitors who are blind or have low vision by September 2020.

   4. Finalize and distribute a survey to AD consumers regarding accessibility at National Park Service facilities and the UNI-D project by May 2020 and do pilot field visits to 1-3 NPS facilities by December 2020.

   5. Provide reports on activity to be shared on the ADP website—twice per year, by

1. Work with advocates to pursue the re-establishment of the AD tour of the White House as per the ACB resolution. By December 2020.

Media subcommittee -

HIGH PRIORITY

1. Maintain audio description listings of all television programs on the major broadcast and cable networks with updates each week for 2020 and twice-per-year updates on cumulative statistical analysis through December 31.

2. Maintain current listing of audio described programs on DVDs, Netflix, amazon, Hulu, iTunes, Apple, Disney+ and other new streaming services with at least monthly updates throughout 2020.

3. Investigate proposal to have a system for establishing whether AD is transmitting properly in movie theaters prior to the start of the film via a universal audio file and possibly involving audio description for movie trailers/previews. By December 2020.

4. Follow the implementation of the Disability Rights Advocates structured negotiation with HULU, HBO, HBOgo and HBOMax to make its video streaming platform accessible and to include all of the shows that used AD on broadcast to include it online as well. By December 2020.

5. Develop a strategy to deal with the growth of streaming services. This includes having the many streaming services be fully accessible to screen reading platforms and to have the ability to play titles with audio description. This strategy will be evolving as this is an area that changes daily. This may include working with the FCC, creating a standardized letter to send out to streaming providers, and more. By December 2020.

6. Provide reports on activity to be shared on the ADP website—twice per year, by the end of July and the end of December.

MEDIUM PRIORITY

1. Pursue producing AD (by the ADP or others) for live national “special” events like NBC’s live musical events (“Hair” in spring 2019), ABC’s Dancing with the Stars, or broadcasts such as Macy’s Parade, political party conventions, State of the Union presentation, inaugurations, state funerals and ACB Radio delivery of AD for other special events. By December 2020.
2. Follow-up with the FCC to implement a Disability Advisory Committee recommendation for an accessible directory for all described television programs facilitating the reposting of the data and maintaining an accurate listing of all audio described programming on the ADP website (as resolved by the ACB in July 2018). By December 2020.

3. Advocate with the FCC to create a database of contacts of individuals at affiliate stations and distributors of video programming responsible for audio description issues, similar to the rule that exists for closed captioning (as resolved by the ACB in July 2018). By December 2020.

4. Collaborate with Amazon and other parties to create a) a mechanism on ECHO/Alexa to request a listing of all programs with AD and b) explore initiation of programs with AD by voice commands played in an audio book format. By December 2020.

5. Educate ACB members re. the FCC complaint process with ACB supporting individual advocacy requests for assistance throughout 2020.

6. Work with studios and develop funding for a project that would produce AD for selected public domain films and/or films in studio libraries. By December 2020.

7. Work toward the development of an app that would allow home users of AD to access description via headphones, separate from the original soundtrack available to others in the same room. By December 2020.

8. Reach out to Hallmark regarding the implementation of audio description with its programming. By December 2020.

LOW PRIORITY

1. Contact the Library of Congress to explore the development of an initiative to produce description for films on the National Film Registry. By December 2020.

5. Develop informational PDFs and PSAs re. AD and other access services for use by performing arts spaces and/or movie theaters (consider a segment on AD by “First Watch”). By December 2020.

2019 Activity

Our eleventh year of activity was particularly varied. Here’s a summary of that work organized generally according to the ADP subcommittees:

Performing Arts/Museums

- with support from the DC Aid Association for the Blind, developed an AD tour of the Smithsonian Institution’s Insect Zoo – we worked with Sarah Studer and Dr. Francisco Lima (a blind professor/AD expert in residence at the museum) – the test of the tour was conducted by ACB executive Director Eric Bridges

- working with the 9-11 Memorial and Museum regarding concerns with the museum’s accessibility efforts

- working with The Broadway League regarding the possibility of AD scripts for professional touring productions including the possibility of shows hiring a “cast” member to provide AD and tour with shows

- issued a performing arts questionnaire to ACB affiliates in an effort to build our listings of performing arts space AD offerings – we plan on following-up with questionnaires to the Theatre Communications Group (producing entities) and the Association of Performing Arts Professionals (arts presenters)

- worked with ACB headquarters regarding follow-up on the ACB resolution expressing concern about the absence of our audio described White House tour

Media

- Carl Richardson, Anthony Stephens and Joel Snyder appointed to the FCC Disability Advisory Committee: ongoing work with the Committee on a directory of described programming, the use of the phrase “audio description” in lieu of “video description”, and overall access to described programming
- Following the development of Charter Communications’ Spectrum Access and SoundFi (Actiview was acquired by Charter Communications) and considering possible collaborative initiatives

- Subcommittee member is pursuing information regarding AD with commercials

- Following the establishment of a new group—“ADNA-AD Narrators of America” with a website at: https://theadna.org/

- Shane Burgett, a blind reporter and NPR contributor based in South Korea, interviewed Joel Snyder and Denise Decker regarding AD for foreign films with subtitles

BADIE

- 26 entries for the 2019 BADIE contest received and winners were selected, contacted and prizes distributed along with certificates with Braille labels; a formal press release was posted in conjunction with our contest partner, the Described and Captioned Media Program; the Grand Prize winner delivered read essay at the February 2019 ACB Leadership and Legislative meeting:
